

Farewell Design Options & Pricing

Please note, images below are provided to give you a general idea of the design format and are not representative of your chosen flowers regarding colour and detail. Every arrangement of farewell flowers is unique, and is the result of thoughtful discussion with you regarding symbolism and aesthetics. Careful, informed choices are made to ensure flowers and foliage in the piece best reflect our discussion while being led by what the British seasons are offering. All prices include initial consultation, delivery to the funeral director and collection of materials where applicable when the base of the floral structure is no longer needed (in the case of Casket Sprays).
